Harvest Hues

Fall season on full display.

A shift toward nature-inspired color was unmistakable, with terracotta, tobacco, amber, olive, and clay setting the tone across the market. Rich color palettes brought depth and warmth to interiors, moving beyond everyday neutral-forward palettes that feel both grounded and expressive.

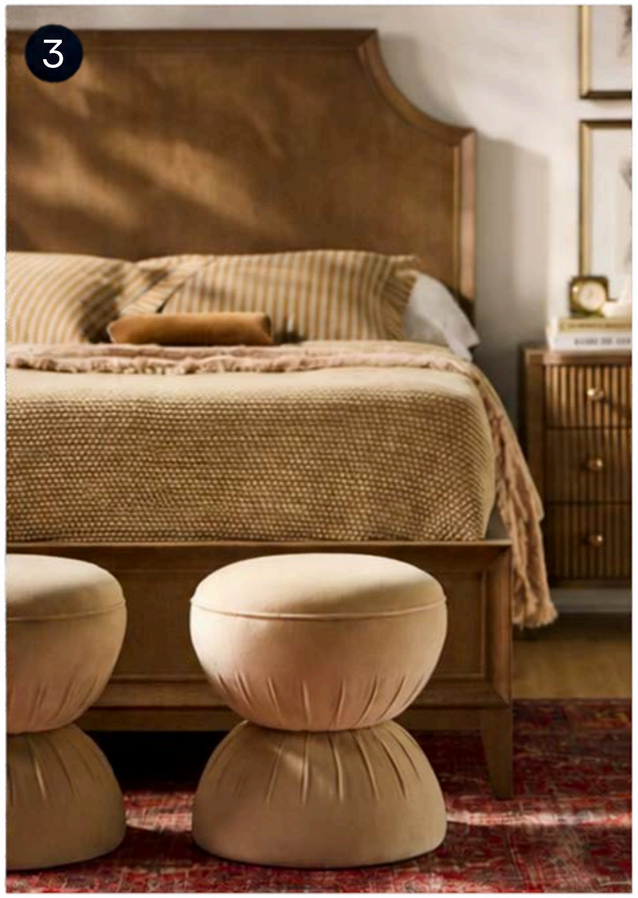

KEYWORDS:
Terracotta, Ochre, Walnut, Olive, Amber

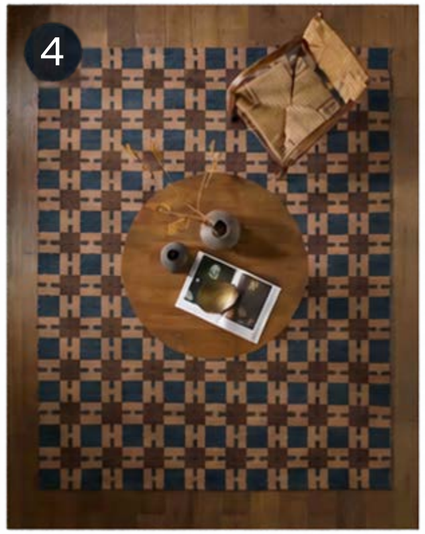

FEATURED:
Four Hands - Cersei Swivel Chair

1. ROWE - Showroom
2. SUNPAN - Pilune Ottoman
3. UNIVERSAL - Emerie

5. CLASSIC HOME - Penelope Accent Chair
6. UNIVERSAL - Emerie

Western Roots

Authentic design.

Western influences spanned across furniture, textiles, lighting and art at Fall High Point Market. Saddle-toned suede fringe and speckled hair-on-hide added texture, while plaid upholstery, blanket-inspired patterns, and cowboy motifs brought the reference into focus. The details ranged from the movement of a fringed ottoman and a cascading chandelier to the exposed wood frame of a reissued 1966 sofa, showing how Western character can come through in both materials and form.

KEYWORDS:
Saddle Leather, Natural Hide, Fringe, Raw Timber, Americana

4. ALDER & TWEED - Atlas Coffee Table
5. CLASSIC HOME - Myla Swivel Chair

Where Work Meets Play

A new perspective on multifunctionality.

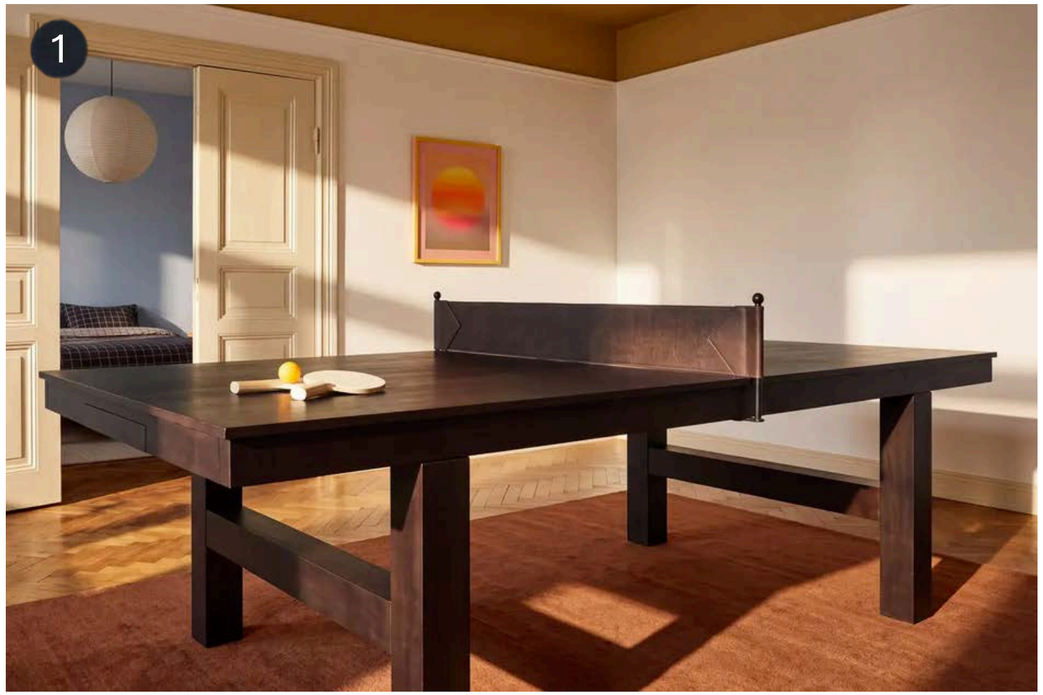

Playful design met practical innovation through furnishings that encourage interaction, recreation, and flexibility. Game-inspired tables, convertible pieces, and multifunctional furnishings reflected a growing interest in spaces that accommodate more than one purpose.

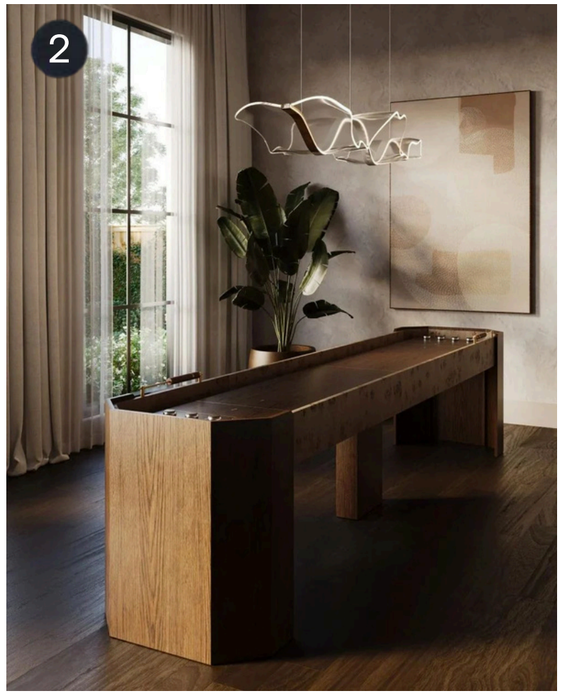

From shuffleboard tables in rich wood finishes to ping-pong tables that double as dining surfaces, these pieces bring a sense of play to workplace lounges, hotel common areas, and residential amenity spaces.

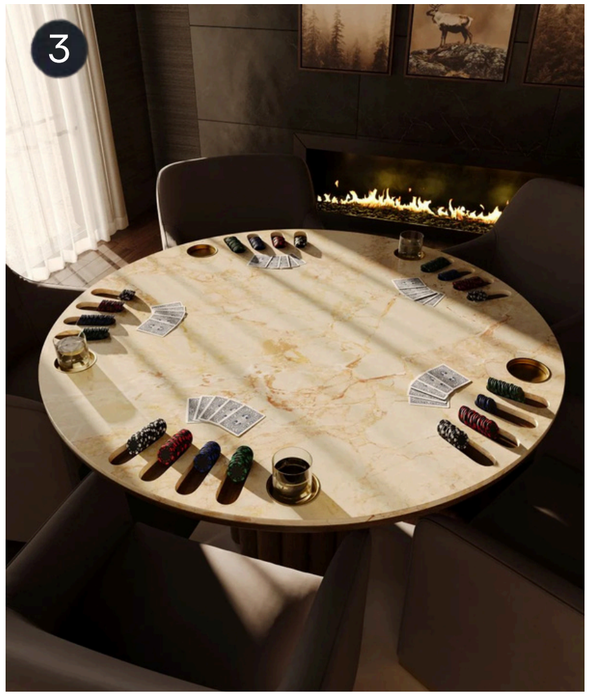

KEYWORDS:
Game Tables, Multifunctional Furniture, Flexible Spaces, Recreation

5. SUNPAN - Montrose Ping Pong Table

Skirted & Scalloped

Making furniture more approachable.

Intricate details and decorative elements can dramatically shift the character of any room. Small-scale and curved designs were evident in gathered upholstery, flowing skirts, scalloped edges, and tailored trim. These encouraged eye movement, offering a counterpoint to traditional forms that have long defined contemporary interiors.

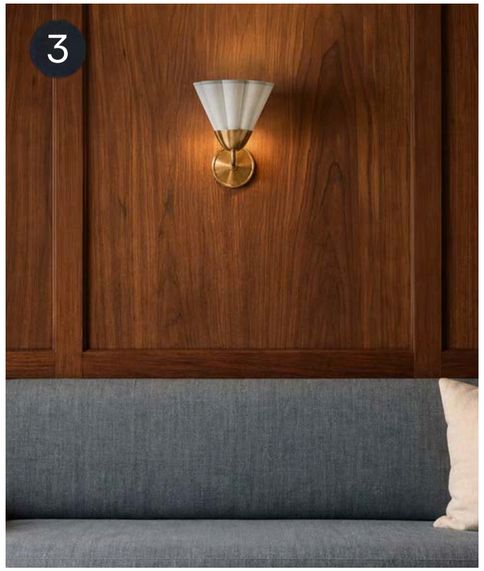

KEYWORDS:
Tailored Upholstery, Decorative Trim, Intricate Details, Feminine Forms
